THE 1984 CRYSTAL

On Thursday, August 25, the entrance doors opened once again for the 1983-84 school year. Lexington High students, filled with enthusiasm and desire, were determined to complete another year with more success than the preceding years. The eighth grade was reduced by half, because all city eighth graders attended Lylburn Downing. This cut school enrollment but school spirit remained at a peak.

The seniors, very anxious to start the new year, jumped right in with both feet, ready to finish what started twelve or thirteen years ago. This senior year for many is just a last step before college, but for all it's just another start for a gold medal year.

...Your Best

Everyone holds within himself a special talent, whether it be singing, dancing, music, leadership ability, sports, or academics. Everyone at Lexington High School can do something. Some people let their talents show while others keep them hidden, but if a person searches hard enough, that special talent will come out.

L.H.S. provides a variety of opportunities for individuals and their development. They include sports, drama, music, public speaking, computer training, and language. The Gifted and Talented program houses many opportunities both in and out of school. Also there is Talent Search for those who are seeking their goals.

When students get involved, and are active, they make discoveries about themselves, develop interests, build confidence, and contribute to the school. Students at Lexington High School have found that by putting their talents together they are "Bring out the Best."

Cheryl Falls enjoys a nice day by relaxing outside at school, daydreaming about the day's events.

Ninth grader Shannon Raborn asks, "Is this the right one?" as she hands in her paper.

Lunch period is almost over and Sam Settle, Kent Doane and David Jones count the minutes down while Tal McThenia frantically finishes his homework.

Excited about their first day of school, sophomores Laura Sisler, Dawn Faulkner, and April Friski are making their way to the first class of the day.

Sue Vess is happy to help anyone who needs pencils, paper, or any last-minute need.

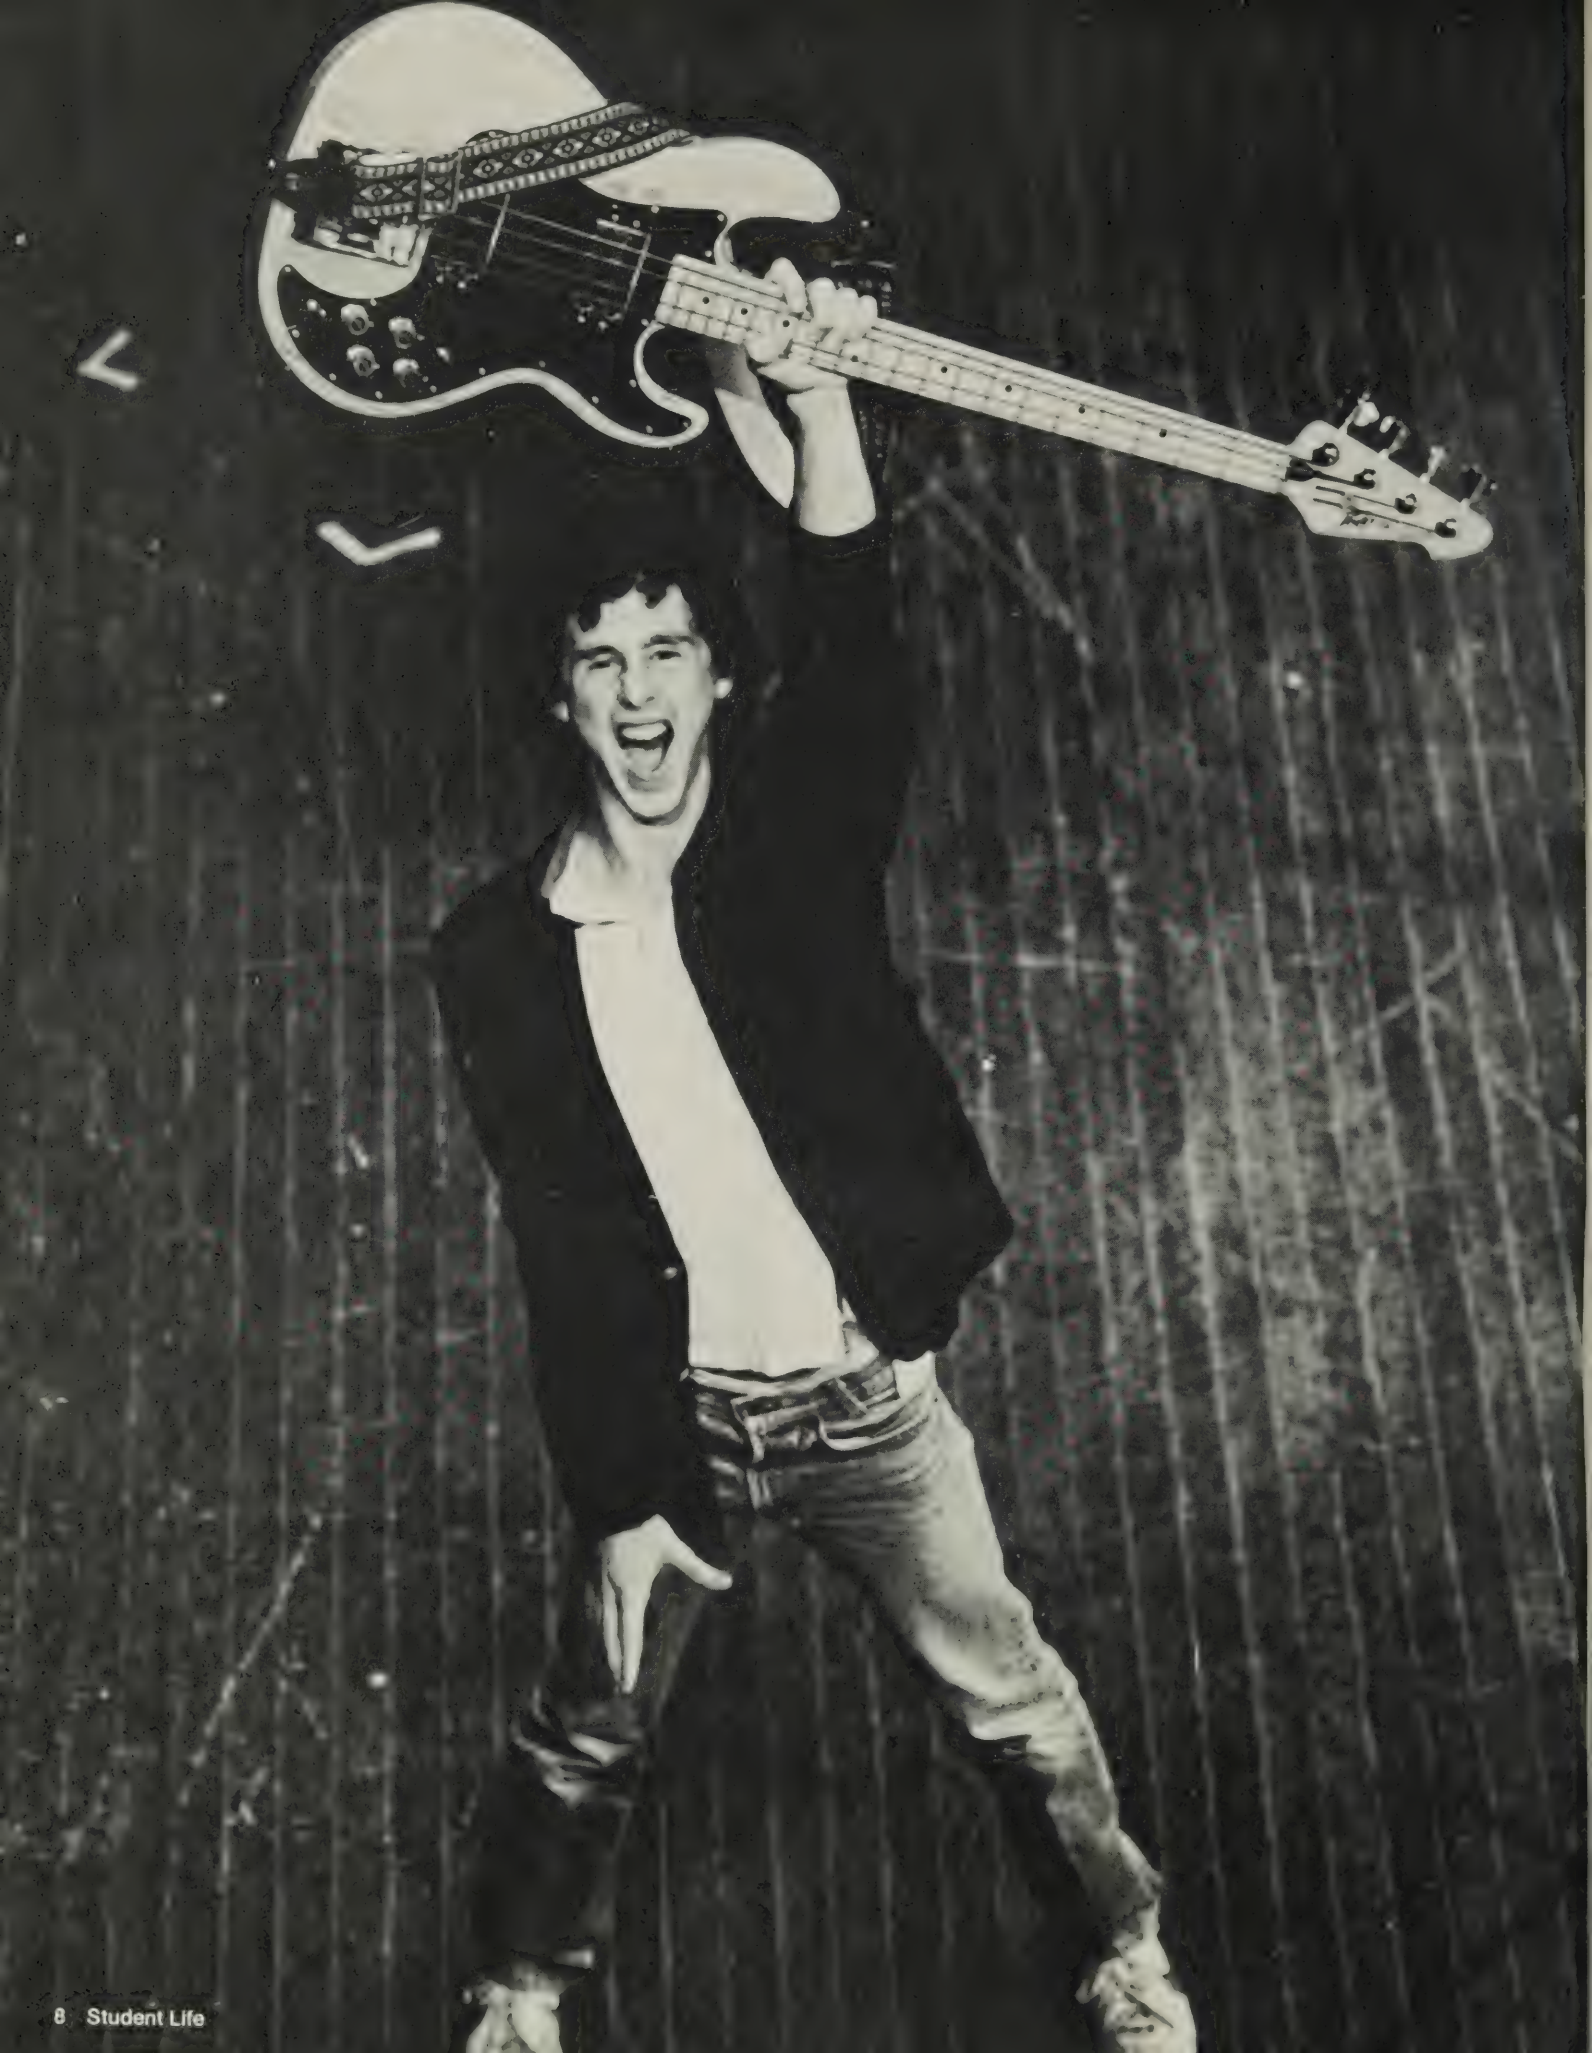

Fumbling with his combination lock, "Mr. T," (Boo Lawson) has got to get to his books.

Huddled at their locker, Meg Carter and Marsha Mull busily look for a missing assignment.

"Oh Man! Look at this!" Thomas Vinson and his brother Stanford joke about the mystery message.

THE BEST IN

STUDENT LIFE

A Time for Work ... and Play

The last bell of the 82-83 school year tolled and released students to scurry on their separate ways for their summer activities. While some students spent their summer attending camps, others enjoyed the sunny days and let the sand massage their feet.

Amanda Badget and Emily Scott attended Governor's school for the Gifted. At Girls' State were Emily Scott, Lynne Draper, and Amanda Badget. Hugo Kostelni, Jon Mamon, and Fran Freidman attended Boys' State. Patty McDaniel, Colette Van Name, and Tal McThenia spent some time at Governor's School for Fine Arts held at Roanoke College.

Several Athletic Camps were held this summer and many students from Lexington High School attended them. As basketball players sweated it out at Liberty Baptist College, they hoped it would all pay off. The cheerleading squads expanded their skills in stimulating school spirit by attending cheerleading camp at JMU. Football players resumed their Football Practices at camp this summer with a strenuous program and a new coach. Band students also attended Band Camp to learn new drills and to brush up on their marching techniques.

Many other people attended camps of their choice, but that's what summer is all about; to do what you like to do best.

Showing true summer spirit are Charles Kirpatrick, Robbie Garrison, Ray Conner and Lyle McClung.

Blazin' Saddles

The Senior Class sponsored some rip-roarin' fun to begin the year. The Homecoming Dance gathered a large dancing crowd at L.H.S. The theme, "Blazing Saddles" brought out the "country" in all who attended.

The decorations provided the southern atmosphere, along with two mannequins to join in the fun. The D. J. provided all kinds of tunes, including good ole country music. The energetic crowd kept him rolling the records, without hesitation.

Payne and Janice Judy, and finally, the Senior class representatives: Joyce Bryant and Kelly Berry.

Our two Homecoming candidates were Sue Vess and Lynne Draper. Only one could reign as the queen of L.H.S. How did it feel to be a candidate for queen? Lynne says, "It was a lot of fun running as a candidate, and was an exciting experience . . . Sue comments, "I was proud to represent my class and I know that I had a lot of friends to support me."

The student body selected Sue Vess for Homecoming Queen, and Lynne Draper, Maid-of-Honor. With a victory on the football field, and a successful dance, Homecoming was concluded.

A Piece of Cake

In the 1983 Homecoming game; Lexington vs. Glenvar, the Hurricane came out on top 35-21.

Lexington came out confident that they could put several points on the board and could stop the Glenvar offense for a homecoming win. The fired up hurricanes did just that by grabbing a 21-0 halftime lead.

At halftime the homecoming court was presented. The 1983-84 Queen, Sue Vess was crowned by George Warren. Lynne Draper was named, Maid-of-Honor.

When the hurricane returned to the field they continued their strong play by going up to a 35-0 lead by the start of the final period. In the final period Glenvar scored 21 points but the mighty hurricane won 35-21. At the game's close all three of the Hurricane Running Backs gained over 100 yards each. This set school record.

Showing lots of school spirit for Homecoming week was Monica Wilson.

Ninth grader Pipa Stewart, being escorted by Scott Williams, truly represents her class.

The Scarlet Hurricanes show great perfection in pre-game drills.

Managers Boo Lawson (Mr. T) and Tony Emore talk with friends prior to the game.

Lynn Draper and her escort Jeff Kostelni await anxiously for the crowning of the Homecoming Queen.

Sue Vess, the Homecoming Queen, is given her bouquet of flowers by Mr. Warren while her escort Hugo Kostelni stands in disbelief.

Halloween! Halloween!

On October twenty-ninth a Halloween party, sponsored by the SCA, was held in the LHS gym. The party was opened to all students and their registered guests.

The movie, Jaws II, with its thrills and chills, set the mood. After the movie costumed teachers and students were vying for recognition as the contest judging got underway. Winning in the class of scariest were Lyle McClung, dressed as a werewolf, and Paul Loggins, dressed as Death. Best in show were the jokers, Catherine Overbeck and Ray VanNess, Jon Mamon and Sarah Sessoms with big noses won in the funniest category. The most realistic costumes were Little Red Riding Hood, Lynne Draper, and Little Bo Peep, Alexia Pantaze.

The costume judging was followed by a sock-hop that got everybody grooving.

This party proved that each of us harbored creative elements that were manifested in the images of ghosts and goblins and witches and warlocks.

Two jokers, Ray VanNess and Catherine Overbeck chit-chat with Lee Woods after winning the prize for best costume at the Halloween party.

Bobby Clark, Frank Friedman and staff Mrs. Leadbetter and Mrs. Phemister take a close look at all the costumes.

Laurie Lamont, having the time of her life, admires Elizabeth Mason and Sarah Phemister's wild clothes for the Halloween Party.

"Hey there, partner, how about dancin' with me?" asks "Puddy" Mamon to his big-nosed friend Sarah Sessoms.

"Stick 'em up," says Ms. Ramsey, as she and Bruce Burnette hold up a student in the hall.

Ho, Ho, Ho

The spirit of Christmas was in the air as the final few days of school before the holidays came to an end. Teachers and students decorated their doors with everything from mistletoe to pictures of Santa Claus and his reindeer. A few teachers decorated their classrooms with Christmas trees, and as usual a Christmas tree was put up in the cafeteria. Before the vacation holidays the annual Christmas dance was held. Everyone who attended seemed to enjoy themselves. The students who gathered to celebrate Christmas represented not only the spirit of the season, but the spirit of "togetherness" in our student body.

It may not have snowed on Christmas Day, but we certainly had a white Christmas as shown in this picture.

Over the river and through the woods to grandmother's house we go . . .

With a blanket of snow on the ground and ice hanging from every tree, it was a beautiful winter.

Heart to Heart

The Theme says it all.

In an effort to raise money for their already approaching junior year, the sophomores once again sponsored the annual Valentines Dance. On the evening of February 18th, many students and their dates headed for the LHS gym to spend an evening "Heart to Heart."

As the couples entered the building they were greeted by a cheerfully decorated bulletin board announcing the theme of the dance and the admission fee. Once inside the gym, with the parachute covering the beams and festive paper hearts placed randomly around the gym on the walls and bleachers, the room was hardly recognizable as the place in which all athletic events occur.

The music, which kept everyone on their feet and moving to the beat, was provided by David Felts and Sammy Moore.

When asked what she thought about the dance, sophomore Monica Wilson replied, "I was surprised there wasn't more of a turn-out for it but in general I think it was a good dance. Everyone seemed to be having fun."

Another sophomore, Katherine Overbeck, commented "The music was great — really good dancing music."

In spite of the small number of students in attendance, the proceeds from the dance certainly boosted the sophomores' financial situation, and all students who did attend seemed to enjoy themselves.

Lights! Camera! Action!

Too fast! Cut those lights! Let's Try it again! Sounds of rehearsal began early in September as the LHS Drama Club prepared three one-act plays for performance and one for Theatre Festival.

"How He Lied to Her Husband," directed by senior Liza Woods was chosen to participate in the Blue Ridge District Theatre Festival at William Byrd High School on November 12th. LHS received a distinguished participant award and became eligible for the regional festival in Rustburg. "What's New at the Zoo," "The Last Word," and the festival play were presented to an enthusiastic audience in December.

Summer and Smoke, The Children's Hour, Member of the Wedding, plus five more excellent plays sounded like a big challenge for the drama club's spring production, however, only scenes concerning conflicts of young people were actually used. Five scenes were directed by junior Tal McThenia and five were directed by Mrs. Marshall. The crowd responded very well to the April fifteenth production and the Drama Club "closed the curtains" on another successful year.

The 1984 Mock Convention was a great reason to be out of school for a day. Many LHS students participated in the parade through Lexington or were involved in other aspects of this event which occurs in four-year intervals.

The parade floats ranged from less than adequate to truly creative, but the enthusiasm of the occupants never waned as representations from each state moved slowly through the people lined Main Street.

At times we were uncertain as to the real purpose of the convention since the W&L "co-ed, no co-ed" issue continued to surface; however, marching bands and waving flags prepared us for the excitement of the 1984 Presidential election.

We're Rowdie, Rough

On the morning of the annual powder puff game, tension mounted as echoes of cheers and chants could be heard in the halls.

More people than expected came out to cheer on junior and senior girls. The juniors, having practiced, were one step ahead of the seniors, who "sportily" accepted defeat.

In the first quarter the juniors made a touchdown, but that was only the beginning . . . The seniors weren't left disgraced, as many deserved tackles were accomplished. Too bad the seniors had to walk away defeated, but the junior girls had better keep practicing for next years game!

Mean and Tough!!

When the freshmen girls challenged the sophomore girls in a game of softball, little did they know what they were up against. On April 13, 1984 the great show down occurred. Three days leading up to the game were filled with practices and spirit chants in the halls.

The freshmen gave it their best shot, but the sophomores were just too hot to handle. They defeated the freshmen girls 12-10.

The sophomores had their enthusiastic cheerleaders to lead their class and team to victory.

Bon Voyage!

When Spring break rolled around, everyone was off to the beach or to the country, and even Europe! A small group of LHS students plus a group of students from RHS and NBHS became world travelers over spring break. Those were Ani Marshall, Jenny Elmes, Tracy Long, Mark Rough, Janice Judy, Susan Phillips, Laura Sisler, and Dirhan Mistry.

The plane took off from Washington's Dulles airport and six hours later landed in the lovely city of Brussels in Belgium. The group stayed one night in Belgium, touring the city by motorcoach and then moved on to Paris, France. The students spent five wonderful days there sightseeing, wining and dining, and catching the exciting night life of Paris. Among some of the sights included in the tour were the Eiffel Tower, the Louvre Museum, Notre Dame Cathedral, the Latin Quarter, and the Sacré Coeur, a beautiful church.

Then, it was "all aboard" for London. The group traveled on a ferryboat across the English Channel to London and spent three exciting days in London, catching more beautiful sights including St. Paul's Cathedral and Buckingham Palace. The changing of the guard was one of the most interesting experiences of the tour. They also enjoyed the ancient art of the British museum.

Traveling abroad was quite an adventure. All the night life, sightseeing, and people helped make the trip exciting and fun, even the rides in the subways!

The Washington Dulles airport seemed like a good place for Dirhan, Mark, Tracy, Ani, Susan and Janice to hang out before flying to Belgium.

A Working We Will Go

Work . . . work . . . and more work. Juniors prepared for nearly two months for the social event of the year — Prom. Preparation of murals, favors, and various other decorations pertaining to the theme — Fantasia — were begun early on. By May 4, most decorations were completed, but the enormous job of the Transformation of the gym into a ball room fit for the Junior/Senior Prom still remained. On May 4, juniors plastered colorful majestic murals on the walls, prepared magical wands to be distributed as favors and decorated tables, the Home-Ec room, and the hall. A gigantic Mickey Mouse was constructed of paper mache for the centerpiece, and Casper, the band, was to make its debut at 8:00 sharp.

Was Prom overanticipated, “over” worked and over invested in for a one shot deal? Most Juniors, as well as seniors would well agree that the 1984 Prom — Fantasia — was well worth the fuss.

David Jones and Kent Doane work from the heights.

"Casper" showed great talent and was enjoyed by everyone at the prom.

The Junior-Senior Prom was a huge success!!! The theme was Fantasia and as the juniors and seniors arrived with their dates the sophomores handed out, as prom favors, magic wands introducing the theme of the night. Students were fascinated by the wild paintings and decorative murals on the doors and in the hallways. Eventually making it to the gym, the first scene that met the eye was a large podium from which Mickey Mouse was casting his spell. The thrill of actually being there was enough to get the night started.

The main event of the evening, that everyone was waiting for occurred at ten o'clock, when the seniors marched through the arch with their dates. Cheers arose from the crowd and cameras flashed as Junior Class President Jonathan Larsen announced each couple.

The band "Casper," was great!!! They were playin' and singin' all of the top hits that kept everybody on the dance floor. As junior Cheryl Falls said, "Casper was a good choice and the music was really enjoyable.

Skeet Mutispaugh summed it up by saying, "The prom was great and so were the decorations. Best of all was the fact that nobody got in trouble. I hope future proms will be as good as this year's so rising underclassmen can enjoy it like I did."

Senior Joyce Bryant and her date pause under the arch to hear their names announced.

The Supreme Court of Seniors

It was 4:00 in the morning when the senior class started dragging in to board the buses for their government field trip to Washington, D.C.

Around 8:00 the group arrived at the Bureau of Printing and Engraving for the scheduled tour. After that the group stopped at Scholl's Cafeteria at 14th and Vermont for a quick breakfast, then it was on to the Capital.

Congressman Jim Olin greeted the class of 84 on the steps of the Capital. After the group picture of the class, Congressman Olin gave a short talk that was preceded by a tour of the Capital. The Supreme Court was the next stop on the schedule. After this, the group had lunch on the Mall and visited the Museums.

Around 4:45 the group hiked up to the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier for the 5:00 changing of the guard. The next stop was the Lincoln Memorial. Following this tour the group went to Fair Oaks Shopping Mall to shop and eat dinner. At 8:15 the group boarded the busses and headed back to Lexington.

Rain . . . Rain . . . Go Away . . .

The annual picnic for the class of 84 was spent at Shenandoah on May 4.

As soon as the buses arrived, the students started their day of fun and relaxation. Mr. Leonard, Ms. Williams and Mrs. Cappetto spent the morning cooking hamburgers for the hungry students.

The morning started out with a little rain, but many students braved the cold water and became attracted to the cable ride in the middle of the lake. Some only cared to get their feet wet so went only to the merry-go-round. Others, not as brave, played lacrosse, frisbee, volleyball, pinball, and video games.

While the juniors were decorating for the prom, the seniors enjoyed themselves and were unaware of the magical night ahead.

Let's Spend the Night Together

The evening before final graduation ceremonies, the Senior class of '84 gathered for Senior Night. This was an exciting time for all, as classmates and friends received awards.

The program started with the awards presentation. The recipients of awards were: VALEDICTORIAN — Lynne Draper, SALUTATORIAN — Emily Scott, NATIONAL MERIT SCHOLARSHIP AWARD — Emily Scott, THE GARY WHITMORE MEDALS — Amy Carter, Frank Friedman, DAR GOOD CITIZENSHIP MEDAL — Lynne Draper, DAR GOOD CITIZENSHIP AWARD — Amy Carter, STUART P. The Best In

Sports

Serve of the Century

The volleyball team had its best season ever this year. After four years of hard work, early mornings and building, the Lady Hurricane finally prevailed. Led by senior tri-captains Stephanie Shorter and Tia Poindexter and junior tri-captain Susan Imeson, the team compiled a record. The Lady Hurricane finished second in the District Tourney by upsetting favored Glenvar. However in the championship game they were defeated by Lord Botetourt. By finishing second in the district, they earned themselves the right to compete in the Region Tourney.

The Lady Hurricane advanced to the semi-finals in Regionals by defeating Tunstall High School. They then lost in Semi-finals.

Overall, the team felt they had an excellent season and were very proud to have represented our high school well this season. Tri-captain Stephanie Shorter expressed her feelings upon ending a four year career by saying, "I'm really proud of the development and improvement of our volleyball program. I think that Coach Stenzel deserves a lot of credit for her work and dedication. I'll never forget beating Glenvar in districts and playing at regionals. I'll miss this team and I wish Coach Stenzel and the team the best of luck."

A Shaky Season

The L.H.S. Football team traveled a rocky road this season. The season opened with two wins over Natural Bridge and Rockbridge. The Hurricane fell to Alleghany and Botetourt. Following two straight losses the Scarlet Hurricane rolled over Glenvar in the Homecoming Game, 35-21. Another string of losses again plagued L.H.S. as the squad dropped three in a row to William Byrd, Martinsville, and Staunton River. Then came what most people thought impossible. Lexington beat Covington with a 37 yard record setting field goal by Jake Darrell. Covington came into the game undefeated and needed a victory to clinch the district. In the final game of the season, the Hurricane faced Parry McCluer and was defeated again to cap-off a very down, controversial season.

Post season honors went to co-captains: Frank Freidman as second team All-District line backer. Ricky Forren made first team All-District tackle.

When asked to comment on the season, Frank said, "That although faced with many problems, the desire to play the game of football prevailed in the stunning victory over Covington."

Co-captain Jon Mamon stated, "Although there was a lot of adversity during the season we managed to have a little fun and I was really proud of the guys who stuck the season out."

Joey Swink probably put it best by saying, "We had a disappointing season but showed our true colors when we beat Covington."

The Junior Varsity Football Squad showed a lot of skill and determination this year. The team was much bigger than usual and dominated with its huge offensive line which averaged around 200 lbs. The season was highlighted when the Junior Hurricanes whipped Parry McCluer 29-12. "I think we had a good year and was really glad we beat the you know what out of B.V." — John Wayne

This young bunch of football players will be the varsity team of the future and will no doubt get the job done. "I think we had a real good year compared to last year and I'm looking forward to playing my senior year. We had some really good coaches and enjoyed playing on the team," said Kevin Horne.

Cross country had a good year and will only lose one runner, senior, Hugh Jarrard. Although Hugh is a vital part of the team, strong running Thomas Vinson and Jonathon Larson will be back.

The team placed fourth in District competition to advance to Regionals. From there the team did not go to State but Jonathon Larson went individually and ran very well.

"I'm surprised how well we did and am looking forward to next year." — Jonathon Larson

The year was a reasonably good one, and you can look forward to a State contending team next year.

The 1983-84 wrestling team spent their season laboring without wrestlers in three weight classes. The wrestlers who filled weight classes enjoyed a fine season.

The Hurricanes started strong with a fourth place in the Washington and Lee Tournament. Frank Friedman led the team with a first place finish at 138. Hugo Kostelni finished second at 145, Chris Sorrells third at 119, Jon Larson third at 126, Eddie Brown third at 155, and Jon Mamon fourth at 176 to complete the tournament scoring.

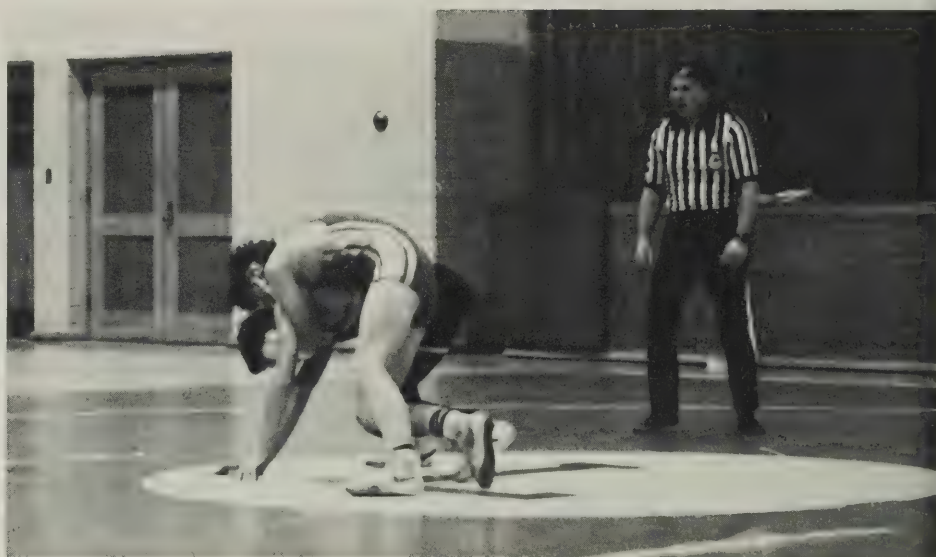

Leading the Hurricanes in the regular season were Frank Friedman and Jon Larson. Friedman finished with a 13-1 record and Larson finished at 12-2. Chris Sorrells finished with a good 7-4 record while Hugo Kostelni went 6-3.

The Blue Ridge District Tournament brought a first place finish for Friedman at 138. Advancing to the regionals with Friedman were Sorrells, third at 119 and Hugo Kostelni at 145.

In the Region III Tournament, Friedman finished second at 138. Kostelni and Chris Sorrells both added fifth place finishes to their records.

Friedman then advanced to the State tournament where he ended an excellent high school career finishing in the top 8.

Post season awards went to Jon Mamon, Jon Larson and Frank Friedman for their excellent work as tri-captains. Hugo Kostelni and Chris Sorrells received awards for their district and regional finishes. Lyle McClung was the most improved wrestler.

This year's gymnastics team had an awesome season. The team record was only intensified by their third place ranking in state.

"It was a joint effort that could not have been achieved without Coach Light," commented sophomore Elizabeth Knapp. This year's team attributed much of their success to their new coach, Holly Light.

"The best part about the winning was winning together and pulling for each other. I also enjoyed getting to know everyone on the team. We had a lot of fun," quoted Junior Janie Osborne.

This year's team consisted of Senior Co-Captain Amy Carter, competing all around; Junior Donna Colbert, competing on the beam and vault; Co-Captain Janie Osborne, also a junior competed on beam, floor, and vault; Sophomore Elizabeth Knapp competed on bars and floor; Sophomore Elizabeth Seebode was injured and therefore could not compete in this year's meets; and the youngest member of the team, Ashton Cobb, who competed all around.

Most of the team members shared in their belief that the team was very successful and well worth the effort. Junior Donna Colbert summed it all up. "It was an excellent season in every aspect."

Starting Over

The Basketball team of 1983-84 took the first step toward rebuilding this year. Rebuilding was inevitable this year with the loss of four senior starters from the year before. One starting guard who did not graduate was Junior Tim Stewart. Also returning was Junior James Walker who did not start on the 1982-83 team. James and Junior Chris Mamon traded starting positions at the center spot most all year long. At the shooting guard spot were sophomores Robbie Canfield and Chris Rowsey who shared the role. At the forward spots were Seniors Eric Walker and Skeet Mutispaugh. Junior Troy Hall was the substitute at the forward spot.

Although the team won only four games all season, they played most teams very tough. Wins came against Rockbridge, Natural Bridge, William Byrd, and Glenvar. The Rockbridge win came in the first round of the Annual Rockbridge County Christmas Tournament. Lexington had lost twice already to Rockbridge in the young season. The Hurricane whipped Rockbridge by 21 points.

The other three wins came by virtue of tough playing down the stretch and coming up with wins by just a couple of points. Most all of the players will return except Seniors Skeet Mutispaugh, Eric Walker, and Kenny Long. All that will have to be filled are the forward spots.

Season honors went to Tim Stewart as he was named to the All-Blue Ridge District Team. Skeet Mutispaugh was named season Captain.

The remaining players are young and very talented, and should have a very promising season to come.

"The season was pretty bad but I feel we gained a lot of needed experience for our young team." Charis Rowsey.

"I really enjoyed playing hoop and really think we could have won more games, especially some of those 10 we lost by seven or less." Skeet Mutispaugh.

"Even though we did lose six Seniors, we pulled together at the end of the year and won our respect," Tim Stewart.

Shoot the Hoop

J.V. Basketball, under the coaching of Dave Melton, had what could be considered a very valuable year. The team consisted of players mostly not experienced in high school game situations. The J.V. squad, although winning few games, showed steady improvement throughout the season in becoming familiar with the system.

The J.V. team showed much promise for the coming years with stunning play at the guard spot by Poncho Turner and Jay Downey, and Kevin Horne giving the Little Red the outside touch. Mike Edwards led the team in rebounds and blocked shots. At the power forward slot was David Rowsey, a very consistent scorer.

The year may have gone bad in the win column, but basketball at LHS took a big step toward rebuilding and replacing six starting seniors lost in the last two years.

A Home Run

Baseball had its "worst of times" and its "best of times". The season schedule was frequently upset by inclement weather. Muddy uniforms were a common sight. Mr. Melton checked the weather forecast with many a sigh.

The team fought well under adverse circumstances. As the uniforms were returned at the end of the season, the mud stains had already begun to fade.

Slow Out of the Blocks

The 1983 Golf team started the season ready and willing to blaze the links. At the start the Hurricane golfers lost their first few matches but began to come along and finished the regular season beating every team in the districts at least once, except Lord Botetourt. In the district tournament the team missed going to Regionals by a mere five shots. Although the team didn't make it, two individuals made it. Skeet Mutispaugh placed third by shooting 73 and Robert Doss sixth shooting 79. In Regional play Robert failed to qualify for the state but Skeet placed second shooting 75. In the state tournament Skeet finished sixth shooting a two day total of 152. (74-78)

Robert Doss commented on the season saying, "I wish we could have played as well at the beginning of the season as we did at the end."

An Awesome Season

The girls' basketball team had twenty-three outstanding victories during the season. Among the most challenging games of the season were the games with William Byrd and Lord Botetourt.

The girls' varsity won the districts while in competition and entered regional competition. They were defeated by Martinsville High School.

Award winning senior Co-Captain, Tia Poindexter said, "I couldn't have done it without the cooperation of the rest of the team."

Spotlight on Spirit

"Yes! Yes! Yes! we do. We've got spirit. How about you?" Yes, the Lexington High School Cheerleading squads did have plenty of spirit.

The members of the white squad showed their spirit as they supported the boys' and girls' basketball, while the members of the red squad showed their true colors for varsity football and wrestling. Junior Varsity didn't show any slack when they cheered for J.V. football and basketball.

All three squads worked hard from beginning to end. After tryouts in May, the squads had a short break before all the hard work started. The squads attended Nationwide Cheerleading Camp at James Madison University during the summer. After camp, practices continued for weeks during the summer.

Spirit was the key word for these girls and they had nothing but spirit. The squads sponsored a Soc-Hop, sponsored a booth at the Rockbridge Community Festival, held a raffle, sold programs, and sold carnations to bring in the first day of spring. They also held several pep rallies.

Although cheerleading was a lot of hard work, the girls enjoyed it. They learned a lot about sportsmanship and even made some new friends. All that together definitely proved that the hard work paid off.

The Red Pony galloped along with grammar and writing skills in eighth grade English while the freshmen delved into the mystery of The Odyssey, the greed of Silas Marner, the heartbreak of Romeo and Juliet, the tale of A Tale of Two Cities, and the trials of Beowulf.

The sophomores were still out To Kill a Mockingbird, and the juniors were involved in "The Battle of the Ants" and concerned for "The Outsiders."

The seniors decoded MacBeth and girded themselves for the inevitable term papers.

Strictly Business

Tami Seaman finds the guidance office a good place to get work finished.

New students this year brought new names and new faces to room 103 and 105! With enrollment at 250 students, we had the maximum the department could accommodate. New course names were used — old clerk typist I and II became office specialist I and II and former stenography I and II became secretarial administration I and II. This was done to keep current with new concepts and training in today's offices. Basically the courses remained the same, but with modern enrichment; I.E. emphasis on word processing. Keyboarding has become more demanding than ever with the new office and at-home computers. The new shorthand system, series 90, was in the junior level secretarial administration.

Former L.H.S. business graduates gave panel discussions to the seniors as to their career paths and what they consider important about being a successful office employee. Several recent graduates returned from college during holidays and visited classes to let students know how valuable their high school training had been when they entered business classes on campus.

A Look at the Future

At about age eleven Tia Poindexter began to play basketball. She was mostly interested in basketball because of her brother, a cousin, and a friend that were on the high school team. Say's Tia "They would play everyday so I decided to play with them." "No one really encouraged me to play but after they realized I had talent at playing they supported me a great deal." Tia's family then wanted her to play as much as possible and to go to camps so that she would become better. "I've played basketball for approximately seven years," commented Tia.

Tia plans to play basketball in college and has been offered a full four year athletic scholarship from the University of North Carolina Chapel Hill. She has signed with the University of North Carolina and plans to attend college there.

Tia has achieved the following awards during her seven years of playing basketball: All District Team, All Tournament Team, Region III Team, MPV of tournament, MVP (team), East-West All Star Team.

Lin Fan Yon came from Taiwan to join her family in Lexington. She entered LHS late in the school year.

The first weeks were difficult since she was not fluent in spoken English; however, as the weeks rolled by, Fan Yon became an integral part of the student body.

One of the strongest impressions that Fan Yon had of Americans was found in her comment, "Americans are so friendly. They smile and speak whether or not you have been introduced."

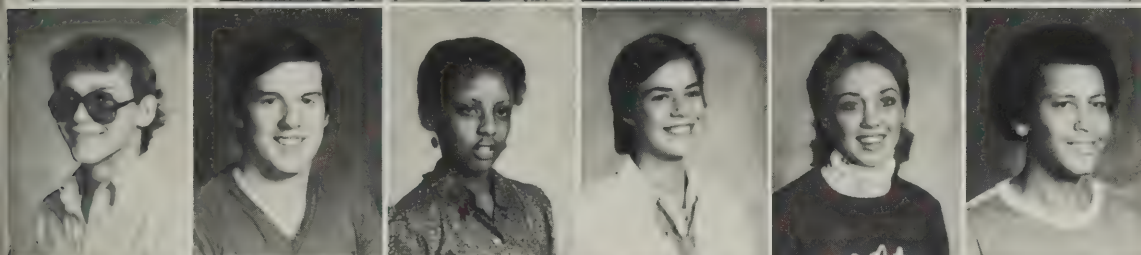

Fan Yon was a whiz in math. She made constant use of her dictionary, but she was also an excellent student in other areas.

We welcomed Fan Yon who brought to us a bit of the beauty of another culture.

A New World

Hey! Who was the new girl at school? She was Helen Findlay, from New Zealand. It was her first time to visit the United States.

Although she had completed Secondary School in New Zealand, Helen was a junior here at L.H.S. When asked about her first day of school, she replied, "I was scared and didn't know exactly how to react to everything. I headed straight for the guidance office, and Mrs. Phemister really helped me and made me feel welcome." Helen fit right in with all the "high school goers," and she made a lot of friends. She says, "I like the variety of people, and they are very friendly."

Helen attended classes like everyone else. She chose to fill her school days with English, History, Math, and Occupational Cooking at Vo. Tech. Helen commented, "Schools are a lot different in New Zealand. Teachers are more strict and so are the rules. I have really enjoyed school here. The students seem so enthusiastic about learning."

School activities were not all of Helen's adventures. She has a special hobby. She loves to ride horses. While living in Lexington, Helen attended Reeves Camp where she rode horses and was a counselor. She coached other riders and helped to care for the horses. Helen also had the chance to attend a riding clinic in North Carolina. She took lessons in equestrian riding, which is a type of English riding, different from the regular hunter's style. Her instructor was a man who coached the European Olympic Team.

Helen's journey to the United States proved to be a good experience. She comments, "I learned a lot at school and how to cope with different people. Coming to the United States gave me the chance to see what the other side of the world is all about," Helen returned to her home on the North Island of New Zealand in October. She plans to pursue a career in cosmetology and hairdressing.

Great Experiences Ahead

At the ripe old age of three, Karee was already going to school and could also read.

Karee has taken several college courses at the age of twelve. She entered L.H.S. at age twelve and will graduate sooner than any kid her age could ever expect to. Now in the 83-84 school year she is taking such courses as English, which includes a writing course, French I and II, and U.S. History.

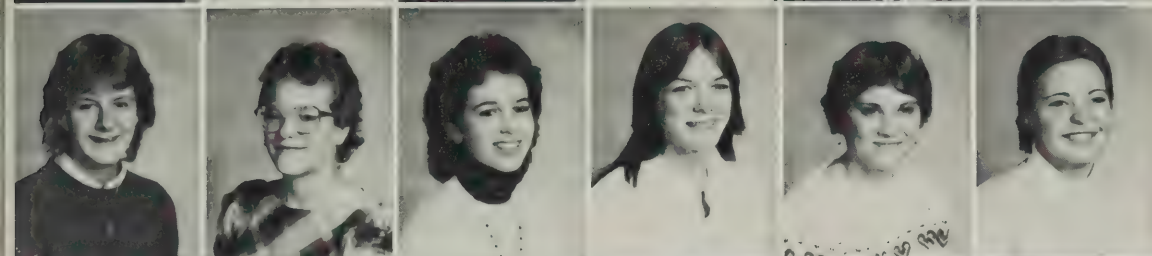

One of Karee's activities for this past summer was a program that she attended for the talented, The Center for Talented Youth (CTY) located in Carlisle, Pennsylvania. This summer Karee is planning to attend this program again to improve and advance in math and English.

Karee is planning to attend Dickenson College. Several of Karee's favorite pastimes are playing piano, singing, dancing, volleyball, and badminton. One of Karee's favorite hobbies is reading science fiction.

Fresh Faces to Guide

A few students may pass by the guidance office without realizing fully the role our counselors play in the school program, while other students use their services daily.

The guidance staff is responsible for those enlightening progress reports, and knowledgeable tutors. The state testing programs are implemented through the guidance office as well as the guidance program for preparing students in testing skills.

Career Day doesn't just happen. It is a product of extensive planning by the guidance department. The counselors are available to deal with problems ranging from poor study habits to poor relationships.

Mrs. Adamson is the confidential counselor for eighth, ninth, and tenth grades. Mrs. Phemister is the guardian angel of the juniors and seniors.

A key to the smooth operation of the guidance office is secretary Peggy Wright. Aside from answering the phone, filing, and typing, Mrs. Wright receives parents who aren't always happy and cheerful.

Mrs. Wright believes that one must be "... kind, patient, understanding, tactful, and a lover of people" to be a successful guidance secretary — this describes Mrs. Wright.

SCA Spirit

The SCA's goal for the year was to promote school spirit and the SCA became the role model for school spirit.

With President Frank Friedman, Mrs. Leadbetter, sponsor, and an outstanding group of officers and representatives, the activities and achievements at the school were "Mind Boggling."

Social activities which were fun and also helped fill the SCA calender were Soc-Hops after the football games, a very successful Halloween party (which will probably become traditional) and a splendid multi-talent Star Search which drew the largest crowd that LHS has been host to in many years.

A helping hand was the theme when the SCA assisted with the Christmas Basket program and donated one-hundred dollars to the fund, purchased a computer for the math department and purchased new flags for the school.

The SCA also sponsored the Door Decorating Contest before Christmas, sponsored Homecoming Queen Sue Vess in a competition in Richmond, served the Athletic Banquet and conducted SCA elections in April. Class elections were conducted in May which gave a head start in organizing for next year.

Would you believe that there was time for an End-of-the-Year party for First Period Reps!

SCA President Frank Friedman demonstrates the new computer to members of the math department.

Honor Is Everything

Junior class representatives, Teddy Henneman and Kim McManus

Scholars Anew

There were five fresh faces on the LHS faculty for the 83/84 school year. They were Doug Chase, Janet Drake, William Duemling, Lynda Gray, and Susan Shields.

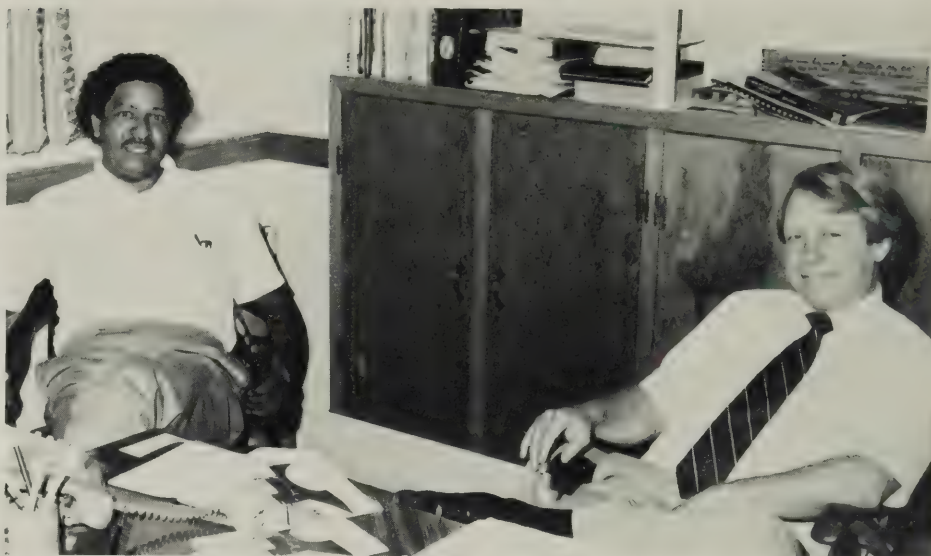

Mr. Chase, who previously taught in the Chesapeake, Va. system, graduated from Washington and Lee University and taught ninth and tenth grade English. He was a sophomore class sponsor. His hobbies are sports and reading, and his special interest is spending as much time as possible with his family.

Janet Drake graduated from James Madison University with a degree in Special Education and Learning Disabled. She was a junior class sponsor, flag corps sponsor, and J.V. volleyball coach. Her hobbies include tennis, photography, and camping.

William Duemling received a graduate degree and undergraduate degree from the University of Wisconsin on the Madison and Milwaukee campuses. He taught at the Hun School in Princeton, N.J. He taught Latin, German, and sophomore English. He was also Latin Club sponsor. His hobbies include hiking, backpacking, and music.

Lynda Gray, a graduate of the University of South Florida, previously taught in Tampa, Florida. At LHS she taught junior English and was a junior class sponsor. Her hobbies include reading and needlework.

Susan Shields came to us from Buena Vista. She taught math. Her special interest is her family.

Bring on Your Best

Assemblies for the school year were not frequent, but the quality of each was unmistakable. LHS assemblies spanned the areas of informational, inspirational, and cultural.

The student body was inspired by speakers such as Mary Futrell, president of the NEA, as she spoke concerning her personal experiences in goal setting and persistence.

Nationally known dance and theatre companies performed for students as well as music groups from W & L and Dabney Lancaster Community College.

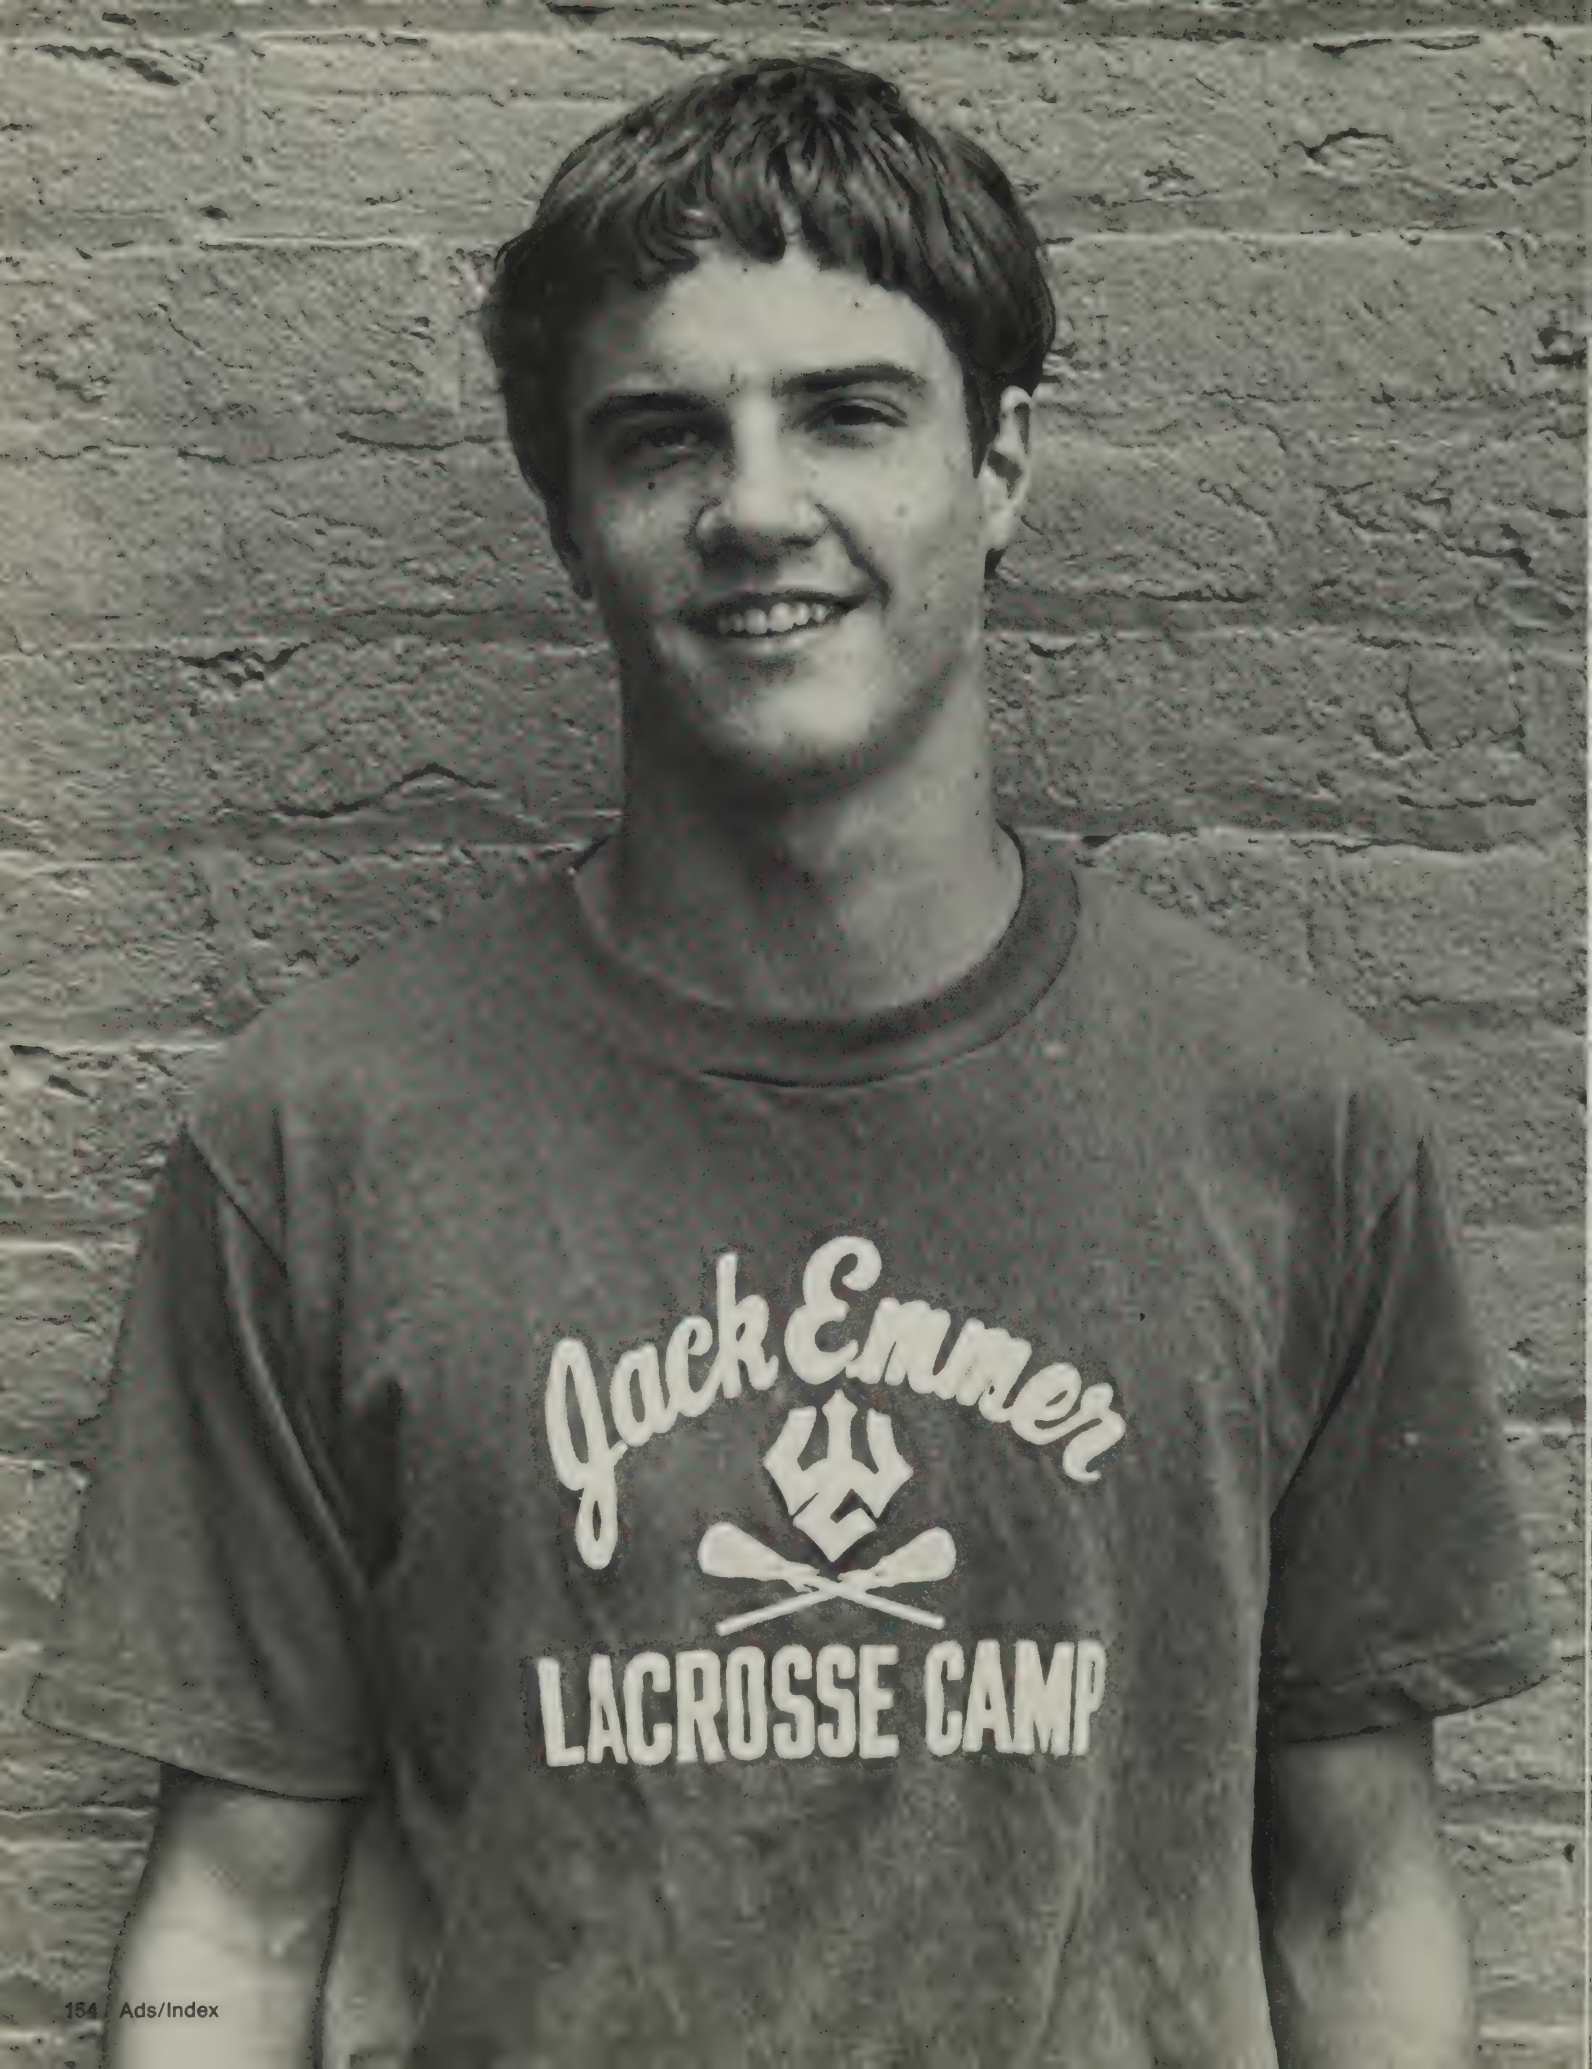

Campaign speeches for student body and class offices were presented with enthusiasm and humor. Formal ceremonies such as the induction of Honor Society members were most impressive. The Awards Assembly was exciting and sometimes humorous.

Assemblies were never boring.

Mr. Chase and Ms. Ramsey do have some differences.

Frank Friedman listens to Mary Futrell's responses. Mr. Leonhard plays it cool.

The before and after of a long school year.

THE FEW AND THE PROUD — Mike Edwards, Craig McMeekin, Dean Brown, Sherri Steele, T. J. Ziegler, Cheryl Sherburne and Mike Straub.

Pat Warner isn't quite sure what to make of the science experiment.

Paula Dale, April Frieki and Elizabeth Knapp exchange summer tales over lunch.

Alison Woody turns up the volume on Tonya Hall's walkman.

1984

Lisa Hostetter models the new spring fashions.

Robbie Canfield stands out in a crowd.

The rapids are a task to handle for John Williams and Brian Schwab.

Albert Wells shows how he can move.

Lesley Hoke enjoys a peaceful moment to herself.

Concentration is the key for Andy Herrick.

Liz Seebode makes herself useful.

"What do you think?" wonder Joanne Ziegler and Kim Schwab.

A Year...

Jennifer Zollman patiently waits for some action.

"Torian Beach" is a popular spot for Elizabeth Knapp, Jennifer Jay and Rachel Evans.

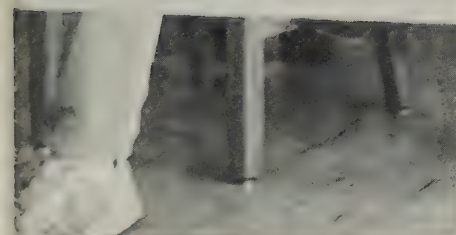

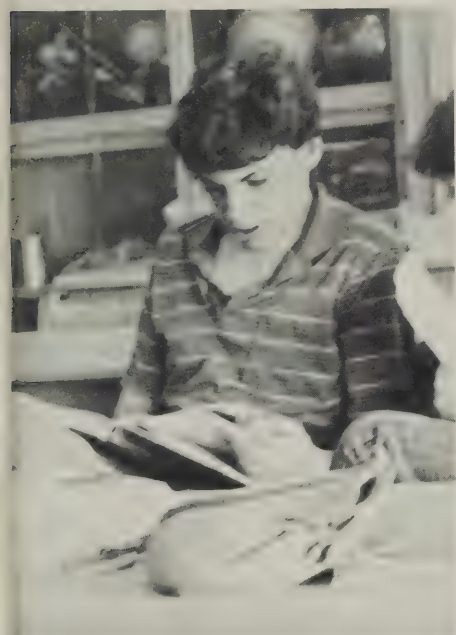

Randy Potter and Mike Donald try to break free of life's prison — school.

Kate Beard and Kirk Rorrer listen carefully as Rachel Evans tells some juicy gossip.

Catherine Overbeck gives her utmost attention.

Brent Faulkner finds time to study before class.

Tammi Jarvis diligently practices her cheers.

LHS's musical talent — David Zybkow, Timmy Wimer and John Merchant.

... Of Success!

Patti Gardner and Laura King both think they have the right answer.

A high rise view of students on a cold winter morning.

Cheryl Sherburne is on the war path again, this time after Stan Vinson. Out of sight, out of mind for Denice Dressler.

Lora Canfield prepares to ace next period's English exam.

"It's music to my ears," thinks Patchin Hartless.

Laura Jones can't keep her mind on class.

A rainy day doesn't dampen Sid Ray's fun at the Senior Picnic.

Music LIVE by Christine Knudson!

Sean Knick wishes the answers will come to him while he sits at Ms. William's desk.

The End

Maybe it is just a little chilly for Lori Whitten, Vicki Swisher, and Starlene Hall.
